

2008 automechanika

in Frankfurt am Main

Automechanika 2008, the leading international trade fair was held in Frankfurt in Germany in the third week in September. For the many Irish people, with connections to the tyre trade who attended there was plenty to see. Below are a selection of the companies that caught the eye of the Tyre Trade Journal's team on the ground.

Corgi

Its truly top-of-the-range structure, exclusive styling, state-of-the-art technology and ground-breaking performance make the EM 8470 Blue Light the new flagship model of the Corgi line.

The EM 8470 "Blue Light", which was on display at Automechanika is a wheel balancer that lights up the insides of rims and displays the balancing surfaces on a high-definition "Touch screen" monitor.

Using a camera and artificial vision technology, the microprocessor locates the balancing planes, positions the measuring sensors and provides the user with a fully automatic procedure.

From L-R: Lawrence Reavy, Luca Tioi, Snap-on, Antonio Torressan, Snap-on and Con Cullhane, Apaseal.